CTA Foundation Accessibility Stage @ CES presented by Verizon

Partnering with Verizon, the Foundation is creating a new stage dedicated to accessibility at CES 2026. CES already features a significant amount of accessibility sessions, but this stage will allow us to expand the content into a higher traffic location. The proposed stage location is The Venetian Convention Center lobby, just outside the entrance to Halls A-D (level 2). The stage will operate for the three busiest days of CES – Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday – and feature multiple sessions highlighting a wide range of accessibility topics. The stage will not only feature accessibility content but demonstrate accessibility in action with an ADA compliant wheelchair ramp access and captioning services for all sessions thanks to Accessibility Services sponsor, Microsoft. Each session will also be recorded and shared for later viewing on the CES app and website.

Our strategically timed annual roundtables allow these groups to problem-solve and leverage #tech4good. Each roundtables' goal is to advance conversation - and partnerships - on key challenges that advance inclusivity. In the past, we have worked with partners to hold roundtables during National Disability Employment Month and during Older Americans Month.
